

Online Learning Center

Home Access

Did you know you don't have to be at work to take online courses through the Online Learning Center? It can be accessed from home, school, anywhere! Just visit...

<https://olc.loc.gov>

The Center for Learning and Development recommends some basic settings to ensure your computer's compatibility with the Online Learning Center.

We Recommend:

- Microsoft Windows XP or Windows 2000
- Monitor Resolution of 1024 x 768
- Internet Explorer 6 Web Browser
- Sun Java 1.5 - Download at <http://java.com>
- Flash - Download at <http://macromedia.com>

You may have a pop-up blocker installed on your computer, which prevents our online courses from functioning properly. Pop-up blockers prevent advertising sites from opening windows without your consent. Sometimes they block good sites, too. If you try to launch an online course and all you see is a screen that says "This course is in progress." or "Loading Please Wait..." you may have a popup blocker enabled.

If you have Windows XP with Service Pack 2 installed, Internet Explorer comes with its own Pop-Up Blocker. To disable it, click on Tools in the menu, then click on Pop-Up Blocker. Click on always allow Pop-ups from this Site.

Display

If you are having trouble viewing the entire screen or can't see the navigation buttons in the course, your computer's display resolution may be set too low.

The recommended resolution for the Online Learning Center is 1024 x 768 pixels. To change the display resolution setting, take these steps:

1. Right-click on an empty part of your desktop, and select Properties.
2. Select the Settings tab.
3. Click on the Screen Area/Resolution slider bar and hold the mouse button down and, at the same time, drag it until the display setting changes to 1024 x 768.
4. Click Apply, then click OK on the confirmation window, your screen will go black and may flicker for a moment.
5. A confirmation window will appear asking if you'd like to keep this new setting; click Yes

For Additional Help...
See the Need Help? section of the Online Learning Center

